

Babies' Brains Matter

Tweddle Seminar Series 2

Fathers, Babies, Toddlers & Attachment

Wednesday 25th October - Children's Week 2017

Tweddle is hosting the second in the series of their Babies' Brains Matter early parenting seminars with the theme "Supporting Fathers to build strong, secure attachments with their babies and toddlers". Come along for the morning and hear specialist practitioners Scott Hall, LeAnn Williams, Dr Kate Taylor and Beverley Allen present 'fatherhood and attachment' research, case studies and approaches to practice.

Scott Hall is a leading Community Wellbeing, Health, Education and Development Consultant with 30+ years experience. Scott specialises in Fathering and transition to parenting programs.

Dr Kate Taylor is a Clinical Psychologist specialising in perinatal and infant psychology. Currently in private practice, Kate works with adults, infants, children and families experiencing a range of difficulties.

Le Ann Williams is a Maternal & Child Health Nurse, Midwife, LC and Manager of Community Programs at Tweddle. Le Ann is passionate about empowering dads to increase their parenting confidence.

Beverley Allen is a Maternal & Child Health Nurse, Family Therapist and General Manager Education, Staff Development & Research at Tweddle. She is a facilitator of Family Partnership Model Training and NCAST parent Child Interaction Scales.

9am	Welcome - Kirsty Evans, Tweddle Director Clinical Services / Nursing
9.05-9.50	'Working Out Dads, Engaging and Connecting'. Working Out Dads is a 6 week group-work program for dads involving therapeutic discussion and fitness, facilitated in a gym" presented by LeAnn Williams, Manager Community Services and Scott Hall.
9.50-10.45	"Considering infant attachment from a systems perspective - the importance of fathers and the family system" presented by Dr Kate Taylor, Psychologist.
10.45-11.05	Morning tea
11.05- 11.50	A Case Study of a Dad and his baby son. Using videoing and the NCAST Parent Child Interaction Scales as tools to focus parenting education presented by Beverley Allen, General Manager Education, Staff Development & Research.

Event Bookings

Venue Tweddle 53 Adelaide Street Footscray
Fee $45 inc gst tea, coffee & biscuits provided
Enquiries Beverley Allen (03) 9689 1577 beverley.allen@tweddle.org.au
Bookings <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/fathers-babies-toddlers-attachment-tickets-37987973050>

